Dr. Mackey Speaks At Olivet College

Dr. A. B. Mackey has recently been called to present the Senior Sermon at Olivet Nazarene College, May 23.

He has spoken at Olivet and our other colleges in times past and is very well liked by the students. Several years ago, at the College Conference at Pasadena College, Dr. Mackey was chosen by the students as their favorite speaker of the group. We are happy to have as our president Dr. Mackey who is so well thought of by our other schools.

Clio Society Presents

Bresee Picture In Chapel

The reproduction of the picture of Dr. Phineas F. Bresee was formally presented to the College on Wednesday, April 28. The presentation was made by William Hill, president of the Clio Society. Dr. A. K. Bracken received the picture on behalf of Trevecca Nazarene College. His speech of acceptance included the quotation of the following statement which Dr. Bresee made concerning the Church of the Nazarene: "We are in the morning of this movement, and the sun never sets in the morning."

An original portrait of Dr. Bresee, founder of the Church of the Nazarene, had been in the possession of the College for three or four decades. During this period, it had become somewhat defaced.

The Clio Society authorized a committee to arrange for the restoration of the picture and to hang it in an appropriate place. The committee was composed of Charles Hodge, chairman, Wayne Sharpes, and Raymond Childress.

The picture now hangs in the foyer of the McClurkan Memorial Building. As a person enters the foyer, he sees a picture of Dr. A. B. Mackey current president of Trevecca Nazarene College. On his right he sees a picture of Reve-

Howard Spruill, business manager of Darda was not able to be present when the picture was made.

Librarians Attend

Library Association Meeting

On April 29 and 30 Mrs. A. B. Mackey, librarian, and Miss Edith Lancaster, assistant librarian, attended the Tennessee Library Association meeting held in the State Library Building.

A coffee was given by the Nashville Library Club to the Tennessee Library Association. Following this there was a tour of the building. There were various art exhibits in relation to the association.

On Friday a session was held on College Libraries. A panel discussion, consisting of five librarians from various parts of the state and led by Mr. Don Ferris, librarian at Martin Branch University of Tennessee, was given on "Stretching the Book Budget to Meet Increasing College Demands and Rising Prices."

There were various other sessions concerning the needs and problems of librarians.

Dr. And Mrs. Mackey

Entertain Faculty

President and Mrs. A. B. Mackey entertained the faculty at a dinner May 10, at Bozeman's Restaurant.

The tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and place cards carrying out the spring motif.

The guest of honor, Dr. S. T. Ludwig, presented a challenging message to the faculty.

After the dinner members of the faculty expressed appreciation to Dr. and Mrs. Mackey for an enjoyable occasion.

MILLER, BLEDSOE WEDDING TO BE MAY 21st

The marriage of Lona Miller and Bob Bledsoe will be solemnized Friday evening May the 21, 1954, at 7:30 O'clock at College Hill Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Miller take this opportunity to give the students of Trevecca College a cordial invitation to attend the wedding.

East Tenn. Caravan Visits Trevecca

On Friday 7 the East Tennessee District caravan consisting of more than two hundred people arrived on Trevecca Campus.

The lobbies of the buildings were decorated in a very attractive manner with tapers of crepe paper and signs welcoming the visitors.

A chapel program was given to the district with a welcome given by Dr. Mackey. Afterwards a free lunch was served. It was hoped that a banquet could be prepared but because of the condition of the cafeteria, it was impossible to do so.

We hope that this caravan will result in bringing many new students to our campus in the years ahead.

Seminary Group Has Luncheon

A luncheon for prospective Seminary students was given at Greers restaurant on May 10. The purpose of the luncheon was to promote interest in the Seminary.

Various alumni spoke throughout the luncheon. These were: Rev. Galloway, Rev. Ray Dunning, Rev. W. Thompson, an E.N.C. graduate, Dr. Bracken and Professor Phillips. Professor Phillips read some letters from Trevecca students who are now in Seminary. These were all in praise of the Seminary and an encouragement for Trevecca graduates preparing for the ministry to come.

Dr. S. T. Ludwig was the main speaker of the occasion. He presented the challenge that the church has in the future and the place the Seminary has in accepting this challenge. He made the statement: "If the church continues to progress in the next fifty years as it has in the last fifty years, in the year Two Thousand there will be fifty thousand members instead of two thousand."

The students were honored to have Dr. Ludwig to speak to them and to learn more of our Nazarene Seminary which they will soon be attending.

Religion is Personal

What is the essence of Christian living? Does it mean to keep the ten commandments merely as a code of ethics? Does it mean to abide by the principles of the sermon on the mount? Does it mean to love your neighbor? What does it mean to be a Christian?

Christian living means all of these and more. It means moral living, in keeping with the ten commandments and the teachings of Christ. It means this, and more. It means love in the heart; and more. These things are a part of Christian living, but there is more. The essence of Christianity is a personal relation with Christ.

It is not enough to know that Jesus is the Christ. We must know Him. One must have a relationship with Him so real that we might say, "Did not our hearts burn within us as we walked with Him by the way?"

An enlisted man can fulfill his military duty to his country by obeying his orders. That would discharge his responsibility. Ask that general who has worked his way up through the ranks if that is all there is to being a good soldier. He will tell you that it must come from within. There must be that deep-rooted, inherent devotion to military discipline. There must be that effervescent

CHAPEL BELLS

Ding Dong! The chapel bells ring out once more to call the T. N. C. students to an hour of fellowship with God. We have been privileged to have outstanding speakers in the services of the past few weeks.

Dr. Mackey began the week with a revealing message on the theme "How a Christian Should Use His Money." He explained to us how we should let our money be an influence for the glory of God.

The following day Rev. Redford brought an inspiring message on "Divine Power," selecting his text from II Peter, 1:1.

We were privileged to have an evangelist, O. C. Mingledorf, with us in chapel for several days. He spoke to us on "Friendship with Jesus." He brought out the qualities of friendship which are: (1) congeniality (2) thorough understanding (3) perfect confidence (4) love. He closed with the stirring words:

"Fellowship with Jesus

Fellowship divine

Oh, what blessed sweet communion

Jesus is a friend of mine."

Often the pastors of nearby churches around Nashville favor us with messages. This month Rev. Walter Thompson brought a soul-stirring message on "The Lure of the Perfect."

The week of our annual Board Meeting we had several special speakers from out of town. We were very happy to welcome Dr. A. F. Harper, editor of Sunday School literature at the Nazarene Publishing House, Kansas City, Missouri, who brought a soul stirring message entitled, "What Investments Are You Planning to Make for Eternity?" Some of the outstanding thoughts were that a sense of a divine mission makes the unusual out of ordinary lives; another was no life is rich or full that does not devote some time to God is concerned.

Rev. L. B. Hicks, one of our most beloved chapel speakers, brought an unusual message on "The Rock." He designated Christians as living stones and salvation as a life giving stone. He dwelt on four attributes of this stone of salvation which were satisfaction, splendor, purpose and safety. He also was with us another day and brought a stirring message on sin.

Dr. Carter, also a visiting evangelist, gave us some wonderful

In the past month three of our Trevecca homes have been blessed with new arrivals.

Steven Douglas was born to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shomo, April 20th.

Linda Sue Bye brought joy to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bye.

On May 7th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson was brightened by the arrival of Byron Eugene.

Congratulations to these families.

Science Club Enjoys

Smokey Mountain Trip

Did you notice all the people on the McClurkan Building steps Thursday morning, April 28? No, it wasn't an invasion from Mars; it was the Science Club waiting for the bus for a three-day nature study trip in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

The group arrived at Oak Ridge about 11:30 A.M. The trip through the Atomic Museum gave many new insights into our most modern development in science.

On arriving at Chimneys Area Campsite the boys put up tents while the girls went to a lecture in Gatlinburg. Supper was served and the dishes were washed in the most primitive fashion—the creek.

Up bright and early the next morning some of the group went on a bird walk while the rest were getting ready for the hike to Rainbow Falls. The guide for this hike was Mr. Tanner, an outstanding ornithologist from the University of Tennessee.

Next the group hiked to Rainbow Falls up Mount LeConte. The hike was about seven miles long and filled with varied interests such as snakes, juncos and their nests, unusual wild flowers i.e., the pink moscaain flower and trees found only in the Smokies.

On Friday night after returning from a lecture in Gatlinburg everyone enjoyed a service around the campfire.

Global Glimpses

McCarthy Vs. Army

Though Republican Senator Joseph McCarthy has been strongly opposed to Army Secretary Robert Stevens, President Eisenhower at his new conference said he was backing Stevens "to the limit." One of the most sensational debates of the year has been in progress between the Army and Senator McCarthy. Recently the Army named twenty-nine accusations in a row with the senator.

President Eisenhower said the controversy has caused the nation to suffer a loss of international prestige and national self respect. Eisenhower asserted our only hope now is that America may derive from the incident advantages that are at least comparable to the damage already done. In reference to the President's comment McCarthy said "the hearings are a waste of time but I didn't call them on and I can't call them off."

The hearings had been going on for ten days until McCarthy made his appearance as a witness. Without doubt it was one of the highlights of the airing of his row with high Pentagon officials. On the witness stand the determined senator plainly refused to name an Army intelligence officer who he has said, gave his secret F. B. I. material warning of Russian spy danger at Fort Manno, New Jersey.

Roaring his refusal before a tense throng of spectators at the hearing, he told the Army counsel: "Neither you nor anybody else will get me to violate the confidence of loyal people. . . . You can try until doomsday . . . the answer is no. You will not get the information." Special counsel Jenkins backed McCarthy saying the senator's effectiveness as an investigator would be cut "99 per cent" if he were to name his sources.

In reference to the conference at Geneva where Red China and the U. S. are trying to get an agreement on Korea, the hope was shattered last week with a bitter statement from Red China charging that the U. S. forcibly held more than 48,000 communist war prisoners. The conference went on with little hope of agreement.

Here and There

On inquiring about the campus to find the "pet peeves" of the students we found many different kinds; so we will share a few of them with you.

Margaret Barnett—People coming into the office without knocking.

Larry Smith—Show-offs.

Nadine Evans—Boys walking on the inside of the street when with a girl.

Charles Cork—Having to work on ball game days.

Lois Morrow—Boys who wait until the last minute to ask a girl for a date to the banquet.

Dave Poole—Teachers that make you stay for the last five seconds of detention hall.

Robert Agner—High prices.

Dave Erickson—Homely women.

Honey Richardson—Conceited boys.

Jim Erickson—Parking on the streets around the campus.

George Houston—Having to get up in the morning.

Joe Finger—My brother.

Doris Mobly—Morning classes.

Kenneth Belangia—Girls who have to think it over before they accept a date.

Bob Archer—Girls

Wayne Murphy—8:00 A. M. study hall.

Dwight Presson—A day without a letter.

Harold McCue—For some one to mess up my hair.

Dale Martin—Politics, being a vegetarian.

Wedding bells rang recently for Miss Jean Money and Mr. Otha Muse. The couple were married in Corbin, Kentucky, at the Nazarene Church. Jean was a junior at Trevecca and Otha is in the Junior Theological Department.

On April 24th, Miss Betrice Irlene Branhan, and Mr. Robert D. Roeper were married in the Albany Christian Church by Rev. Paul R. Shields. Following the reception which was held at the Branham home the couple left for a southern wedding trip. Robert Roeper is enrolled at Trevecca.

To both of these couples we wish the most of happiness.

Group Honors

Brides - To - Be

On the evening of April 24, 1954, Miss Joyce Price was honored with a miscellaneous shower given in the Fine Arts Building on Trevecca College campus. She was entertained by Misses Yvonne Phillips and Audrey Sweeney, classmates of the bride. The decorations were composed of roses, and the bride-to-be was also presented with a rose corsage. Punch and cookies, nuts and mints were served. Miss Price received many lovely gifts. Those in attendance were: Iris Gunther, Loeida Smith, Jo Ann Westmoreland, Melvina Harlow, Nina Griggs, Phyllis Jones, Connie Earles, Gerry Clay, Wilma Jean Lewis, Gerry Williams, and Joyce Traylor.

Miss Lona Miller was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower given Saturday evening, May 8, 1954, at the home of Mrs. Harold Hammond. Approximately eighty guests were invited. The theme of the shower was the engagement ring and all of the decorations followed this theme. Margaret Barnett was in charge of the games. Cake and punch was served for refreshments. Miss Miller received many beautiful and useful gifts. The shower was given by Misses Iris Gunther, Loeida Smith, and Edra Hammond.

SPEECH RECITAL APRIL 30

Rose Merchant To Present

Junior Recital

On Friday May 14, at 8:00 P.M. in the Fine Arts Auditorium, Miss Rose Merchant will present her junior voice recital. Some of the numbers she will be singing are: "Carmena," Caro Mio Ben," "Lover Come Back To Me," "Old Lamp Lighter," Poor Wayfaring Stranger," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Part of the numbers will be dramatized in costume.

Miss Merchant will be assisted by Miss Mable Cooner—reader and Mrs. Clifford Keys—accompanist. Mrs. Keys will also present some special piano numbers.

High School Seniors

Plan Senior Day

For several years it has been the tradition for high school seniors to have a "skip day." This day and where they are going has always been kept a secret.

However this year the plans have been changed. An all senior day will replace the former "skip day." The Seniors are planning to go to the Smoky Mountains in the near future. The trip will be a camping expedition. Although it is primarily for pleasure it will also be educational as they will see historical, biological and other natural sciences in the making.

It's good to be back at Spencer Field and hear the crack of a bat and the mumbling of the fans as their favorite batter steps up to the plate. Maybe my batting average will increase a little after this road trip.

After having signed my contract for next season (effective October 8, 1954) I was called south for further instructions (spring training). I got most of the wrinkles ironed out during my stay at Fitzgerald, Ga.—headquarters of my new manager.

This year fans are saying that the sophomores are out of the running for the softball trophy.

An important Notice to all track men: You have less than thirty days to get in shape for track and field day. T. N. C. has some good runners this year and competition will be greater than ever before. Training will determine who will "break the tape."

thrill at the sight of an orderly military drill. The challenge of his commander should electrify his spinal column. Being a real soldier demands the total person: the body, the mind with all its interests, and the heart.

Christian living requires obedience to the teachings of the Bible. We must obey the ten commandments, and the teachings of Christ. But will that discharge our responsibility? Christian living is not a matter of responsibility. To live like a Christian through a sense of responsibility is to live a moral life, but it is not being a real Christian.

The teachings of Christ resound that Christianity is of the heart. Christian living involves the full subscription of the body. The mind with all its interests must be absorbed in the teachings of Christ. The inmost citadel of the soul must pulsate with the reflection of the permeating love of Christ.

This full devotion can come only from a thorough going personal relation with Christ based on love. It is not enough to obey Christ as

High School

It took the three hit pitching of Spruill to stop the winning ways of the High School Nine. The 4 to 2 sophomore victory knocked the high schoolers out of 1st place and put the Sophs with 1½ games out of first. Spruill had a no-hitter going until the fifth inning.

Privett, Gadd, and Erickson got extra base hits for the Sophs and Poole, Archer and Wiggs hit for extra bases for the losers.

Christ gave his total personality on Calvary. To give one's entirety in return is to complete the requirements for that dynamic personal relationship. From this perpetual reciprocation of the entire personalities flows the life stream of Christian living.
