Students Elect Five To Who's Who

The five students who were chosen by a vote of the student body for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities are: Carol Ann Asbury, Mildred Chambers, Forrest McCullough, E. C. Rose, and Mickey Smith. They were chosen because of their character, scholarship, leadership, and ability.

Carol Ann Asbury, a senior from Ludlow, Kentucky, is a speech major.

Mildred Chambers, a senior from Magnolia, Mississippi, is a science major.

Forrest McCullough, a senior from Memphis, Tennessee, is a religion major.

E. C. Rose, a senior from Ravenna, Kentucky, is a major in religion.

Mickey Smith, a senior from Hattiesburg, Mississippi, is a religion major.

Telephone Supervisor To Show Transistor Solar Battery

The Transistor and the Solar Battery, both developments of the Bell Telephone System, will be demonstrated at Trevecca College Fine Arts Auditorium, December 2, when Marion N. Lloyd, Customer Relations Supervisor for Southern Bell Telephone Company, speaks to the Science Club.

During the lecture demonstration, Mr. Lloyd will exhibit electronic equipment which has been miniaturized through the use of the transistor—a device that may eventually replace vacuum tubes in radios.

The equipment will include a small radio transmitter, an electric eye the size of a pencil eraser, and an oscillator that operates on the power generated from a dime and a piece of wet paper.

The transistor, which is now playing an important part in the defense program of our nation, is also being used in an experiment near Americus, Georgia, to provide telephone facilities in rural areas.

Dr. A. B. Mackey Speaks at Founder's Day Program

President Mackey Gives Thanks for Unusual Blessings

Usually we thank God for the abundant harvest, the good health and our good friends, but I want to thank God this Thanksgiving for the blessings that He has brought into my life that I didn't know about. Only God was wise enough to bless me with things that I didn't recognize were blessings. Sometimes the abundant harvest and the host of friends are not as valuable to us as the drought and our enemies.

The Word of God teaches us that we are blessed when we are reviled and evil things are said about us for the sake of Christ. Also, His Word teaches us that when all men speak well of us, it is a woe and not a blessing. Therefore, at this Thanksgiving season I want to specialize in thanking God for His unusual blessings—blessings that are so unusual, it is unusual for us to be thanking God for them. I want to include the discouragements, the disappointments, and the hard places among the things that I give thanks unto God for, because I have my faith in a God who promises, according to Romans 8:28, that He will work all things together for my good if I will love Him and answer His call according to His purpose.

President A. B. Mackey

BANQUET FEATURES PILGRIMS

The Thanksgiving Banquet, which was sponsored by the Senior class, tops all other social functions of the season. For the occasion the banquet hall was seasonally decked with an air of Pilgrim days. Orange, brown, and yellow candles cast flickering shadows on the fodder shocks and reflected the autumn colors of the leaves which were scattered among the symbols of Thanksgiving.

The speaker's table was arranged with yellow mums. On each of the large tables a cornucopia depicting an abundant harvest had been placed. Pilgrim figurines looked upon the scene from the corners of the room. Much of this arrangement was made possible by Cain-Sloan.

As the song, "We Gather Together," was being sung, some of the class dressed as pilgrims gathered at a special table, one

Founder's Day Is Observed, Nov. 14

Founder's Day was observed on November 14 in honor of Rev. J. O. McClurkan. Members of the faculty presented the program.

Professor M. E. Redford, who was in charge of the service, gave a short biography of Trevecca's founder, and spoke of his preaching ministry.

President Mackey presented Rev. McClurkan in his human relationships. He was never too busy to listen to the problems and needs of humanity.

Professor K. W. Phillips emphasized our founder's special evangelism in street meetings, hospitals and other institutional service, showing that our Christian Workers Association today is an outgrowth of Rev. McClurkan's work.

Professor W. M. Greathouse presented Rev. McClurkan's theological emphasis, his two major doctrines being the second blessing and the second coming of Christ.

Among the guests present were Rev. and Mrs. James Lantrip. Rev. Lantrip is Rev. McClurkan's grandson. Rev. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan, early associates of Rev. McClurkan, were present.

Dr. Timothy L. Smith Addresses Clio Society

Dr. Timothy L. Smith recently addressed the Clio Society at their regular luncheon meeting. Speaking from a portion of his own book, which he wrote for his Ph.D. degree at Harvard, Dr. Smith brought to view many interesting occurrences in Church history. Dr. Timothy L. Smith is Associate Professor of History at Eastern Nazarene College and has been commissioned by the Nazarene Church History Committee to assist in the preparation of a full-length Fiftieth Anniversary History of the denomination.

Stay Awake at Controls

Six or seven persons are dead, and sixty more were sent to the hospital. This startling report was the result of a truck wreck. The truck was carrying eighty-five Mexican workers at the time of mishap.

The driver, a seventeen-year-old youth, confessed that he had fallen asleep while driving. Yes, some souls were dashed out into eternity and scores were hospitalized because one man fell asleep at the controls.

Jesus warned the Church about going to sleep. He said, "Watch ye therefore; for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning: Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping."

We are all in the driver's seat of eternal values. Others are depending on us; if we wreck our Christian faith along the highway of life we will cause others to be found in the wreckage. Will it not be sad indeed when we stand before the great Judge of the sky and have to report—I fell asleep in the driver's seat of eternal values.

Bible Study Secret

1. Study It Through. Never begin a day without mastering a verse.
2. Pray it in. Never leave your Bible until the passage you have studied is a part of your very being.
3. Put It Down. The thought God gives you put in the margin of your Bible or in your notebook.

Inquiring Reporter

Do you want "Ike" to run again for President?

Billy Gross—"Doesn't make any difference to me, but I think he has done well."

Marita Greer—"Yes, because he has made a good President."

Roy Fuller—"Yes, I don't think there is anyone who can compare with him."

Ray Gill—"Yes, because I don't believe anyone else can do as good a job as he has done."

Mickey Smith—"It seems to me that the health problem is the obstacle; otherwise I would say yes."

Jasper White—"Yes, if he recovers completely from his heart illness."

Mavis Sharpton—"Yes, if his health will permit him to."

Wendell Williams—"I think he has been a very wonderful President. However, because of his physical condition, I do not think it would be wise to run for a second term."

Carol Asbury—"Yes, I would like for him to run. He has done a good job, and the country needs such leadership."

Violet Coulter—"Yes, I want him to run for president, but I don't think he should because of his health. My opinion is based on what I consider the best for the nation."

Jim Errickson—"Yes, he has done more in other countries to hold peace than any other president. Heart specialists say if he takes it easy he will come around this illness . . . His heart is mending fast."

Wilma Jean Lewis—"I don't think he should because of his heart trouble. The responsibility of it again might cause the same trouble."

Bill Calkin—"Sure, I think Ike will run again. I think popular opinion is for him."

R. T. Kendall—"I think too much of President Eisenhower to want him to run again in his present physical condition; we may be happy if he finishes the present term in fair health."

James Ralph—"I hope he does but I don't think he will run."

Ralph Lee—"I don't think he would live through the next four years if elected. If I thought he could live, I don't think we could have a better President."

Parking Lots Improve Campus Appearance

The traffic commission, set up by the Student Council, is working hard to get all the cars registered so that full use of the new parking lot west of the McClurkan Building can be made, improving campus appearance.

James Errickson, chairman of this committee, has done an excellent job in securing "No Parking" signs for the streets, crossing our campus. Recently the County replaced some of the old "school zone" signs near the campus with new, modern ones. Our business manager, Mr. V. N. Richardson, says, "Speeding is a manifestation of emotional immaturity."

The new parking lot will adequately take care of the day students if the residents of the dormitories will cooperate and park in the lots behind the dormitories. Faculty parking behind the Administration Building will soon be designated by small name plates for each space.

The maintenance department has done an excellent job of securing and distributing "no parking" signs and gravel for the sides of the streets in front of the dormitories. Space for visitors and faculty parking will be from Hart Street, north toward Murfreesboro Road. A nice paved walkway will connect the new parking lot to the south entrance of the McClurkan Building.

FORREST MCCULLOUGH

CHAPEL BELLS

Rev. William Greathouse, Dean of Religion, spoke on "Therefore being justified by faith . . ." His message was centered around the thought of "Protestant Reformation," and Martin Luther.

Rev. D. S. Somerville, District Superintendent of East Kentucky District, brought the message on November 1 after reading the 91st Psalm. He included, "God never asks us to do anything that He doesn't stand by us while fulfilling the task." Live as high as your aspirations, and just as deep as your convictions.

Spontaneous testimonies were given by many students expressing the knowledge of salvation. Following these Dr. Mackey spoke on "Laymen called in the service of God." Three points of a good layman are: life he lives, mercy he shows, and gifts he gives.

Rev. Forrest McCullough, student pastor spoke, using Rev. 2: 1-5. A wonderful altar service followed this message.

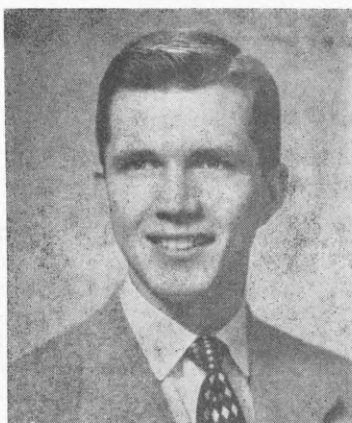

On Friday, November 3, Dr. Timothy Smith, professor of Eastern Nazarene College, spoke to the student body on Romans 11.

There were many testimonies of definite victories following which Dr. Mackey spoke on, "What Jesus Said." The spirit of this chapel is what Jesus built His church on and "the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." He closed by saying, "We need to watch our lives and see that they are like our testimonies."

District Superintendent of Tennessee, D. K. Wachtel, brought, a message on 2 Cor. 9:15. The Greatness of God's gift brings blessing, cleansing a satisfaction, peace that passeth understanding to his children.

Rev. Henry Cooper, student pastor, spoke on "God's Dealings with Humanity." Our salvation depends on God. He moves upon our heart and we become conscious of our heart's needs.

Rev. R. L. Chaney, returned missionary from Hawaii, told us of the climate, history, and mission work of the islands.

Charles Duckett Joins Science Faculty

Professor Charles Duckett is a new member of Trevecca faculty, and is teaching in the science department. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Trevecca in 1953-'54. Also in this same year, he filled the office of student council president.

In addition to his teaching responsibilities, he is working on a masters degree at Peabody.

He is a member of College Hill Church, where he serves as treasurer of the N.Y.P.S., teacher of the college sophomore Sunday school class, and usher.

N.Y.P.S. Honors

Rev. W. M. Greathouse

The N. Y. P. S. at Clarksville church presented a play, "This Is Your Life," in honor of Rev. William Greathouse at his closing service, October 30.

The young people arranged for many of the people to be present who have been prominent in Rev. Greathouse's life during his six years' pastorate at Clarksville First Church. The program was recorded on tape, as one of the going-away gifts to Rev. and Mrs. Greathouse.

Rev. Greathouse is the Dean of Religion at Trevecca. His classes include Systematic Theology, New Testament, and Homiletics.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haug and daughters, Betty and Carolyn, of Clay City, Indiana, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parsons.

Far Away Places

Below is an excerpt from a letter received from the Spencers in Bremersdorp, Swaziland, to the students.

"Dear Friends,

"Our Missionary Council closed two weeks ago this Friday. It was wonderful having Dr. and Mrs. Young with us. His inspiring messages and their sweet, friendly spirit will remain with us long after they have left Africa. One of the things we miss most in Africa is the singing and preaching in the services like we had at home. So when our Missionaries all get together at this time even tho' we are tired from sitting through business sessions for nearly a week, we are refreshed in spirit and more ready for another year of work.

"We appreciate Trevecca and have faith in her faculty and students. We have very pleasant memories of years spent on the campus, and when we talk of the time that Glaphre will be going to school in the States, Trevecca is just naturally the only school that she thinks about.

"We have been praying a great deal for revival in Africa. Would you join with us in praying that God will visit us with the kind of revival we want to see?

"The forces of evil are strong but the God we love and serve is mighty. Praise His Wonderful Name! May God bless each one of you in your service for Him there."

Sincerely,

Herman and Mary Spencer

Tennessean Is Darda Business Manager

Christmas 1933 was an especially happy one for Mr. and Mrs. Russel Vaughn. On December 23, a boy was born into this home. His parents named him Cecil and we now here on Trevecca campus have become well acquainted with the young man with the wavy hair, flashing smile, and friendly hello to all.

Cecil began his scholastic career in Clarksville, Tennessee. Here in high school he was very active. He was a member of the student council; president of the Glee Club; Vice-President of the Red Cross and belonged to the "Key Club," the members being chosen by the faculty on the basis of scholastic standing, leadership, and character.

Cecil was also given a certificate at graduation for being the most outstanding in leadership and character.

Besides his glee club activities Cecil was in the band and in a quartet.

An outstanding Christian in high school, Cecil, at a very young age took the responsibility of a pastorate at Carlisle, Tennessee. He entered T.N.C. in 1953 and has certainly made a wonderful record here. Continuing his interest in religious activities he was elected president of the Missionary Prayer Band. This year he has undertaken the job of Business Manager of the 1955-56 Darda. He traveled last summer in a men's trio for the school and so got some experience in raising money. Cecil, an all-round student, has the confidence of the students, and serves as one of the student counselors.

Undefeated Sophomores Win Again, 47-12

The undefeated Sophomores won again Thursday by romping over the Upperclassmen, 47-12.

Larry Finger raced 78 yards for the first Upperclassmen score of the game, and from then on Moody Gunter's passes told the Sophomore story. Ed Whittington, Don Pyles, Rusty Hartsell, and Robert Hedgepath were on the receiving end of seven of them—for four touchdowns and three extra points.

Larry Finger scored again on a pass from Dwight Presson which covered 40 yards, and then Gunter accounted for two more touchdowns on 70 and 50 yard runs.

Don Pyles trapped Dan Godby behind the goalpost for two more points on a safety.

Upperclassmen connected on 13 out of 26 passes, and the Sophs got 9 out of 21.

Lineups—Upperclassmen: Dan Godby, Ace Rose, Dwight Presson, Larry Finger, Bob Bledsoe, Gene Shelton, Tom Cox and Cary Neal Duckett. Sophs: Moody Gunter, Ed Whittington, Walton Brown, Don Pyles, Robert Hedgepath, Rusty Hartsell, Harry Hemmerly, Wayne Murphy, and Paul Dell.

FORMOSA ISSUE STILL ALIVE

Minneapolis (ACP)—Hostilities in the Formosa strait have simmered down considerably while lower-level negotiations between the United States and Communist China are being carried on at Geneva. But the Geneva discussions will soon be coming to a close and the issue is anything but settled. If hostilities should resume the United States has pledged itself to defend Formosa. This brings up the question of the use of the A-Bomb, and whether or not it should be used. To obtain an idea of collegiate opinion on this issue, the Associated Collegiate Press asked the following question of a representative cross-section of college students.

Hikers Begin Activities

On Saturday, November 12, at 6:30 a.m. the hiking teams of the G.A.A. launched their activities for the year.

Norma Jean Peter's team was responsible for planning the surprise hike and the breakfast for Martha Sloan's team. Mill Creek was the destination of the hikers.

Martha Sloan's team will be responsible for the next hike, and many good times are looked forward to by both groups.

Sophomores Challenge Freshmen with Code

The cake code, which is an annual tradition here at Trevecca College, is making its way back into the news again.

This year the sophomore president, Moody Gunter, appointed the whole class as a committee to be in charge of the cake code.

This annual event is ended sometime in March when the winning side is treated to an outing. That is, if the freshmen break the cake code, they are given an outing by the sophomores; however, if the freshmen do not break the code they must treat the sophomores.

IF THE CHINESE REDS SHOULD ATTACK FORMOSA, DO YOU THINK THE UNITED STATES SHOULD USE THE ATOM BOMB TO HELP DEFEND FORMOSA?

The results:

	Men	Women	Total
YES	34%	18%	27%
NO	60%	69%	64%
UNDECIDED	6%	13%	9%

Perhaps the objection from the moralistic point of view can be summed neatly by the freshman coed attending Hunter College (New York City) who says, "I don't approve of mass annihilation."

Students Hear United States Marine Band

On November 4, several students from T.N.C. enjoyed a rare treat in the performance of the United States Marine Band at the War Memorial building.

This year the Marine Band celebrates the 157th year of its founding 1798-1955. The band is the oldest active musical organization in this country. President John Adams approved a bill for its establishment in 1798 and it continues today as the official White House Band, having earned the familiar title, "The President's Own." The band has supplied the musical setting for every White House wedding, including those of Nellie Grant, Alice Roosevelt, and President Grover Cleveland. Its dignified and solemn tones have accompanied our stricken leaders to their final resting place, including the martyred Lincoln and more recently Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Those attending this performance were: Charles Cork, Jo Lynn Armstrong, Fred Danzey, Carol Asbury, Robert Womack, Patsy Decker, George Hodges, Phillip Riley, Bonnie Williams and Paul Dell.
