Chapel Speakers Inspire, Challenge

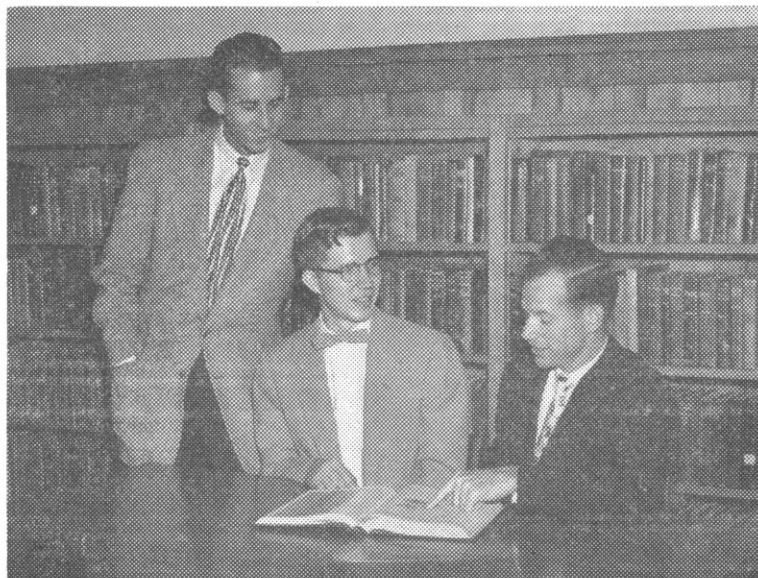

Ding! Dong! The ringing of the bells come as a welcome sound to T. N. C. students because it means chapel time has come again.

All our lives have been made richer from the inspiring words that have fallen from the lips of God's anointed in the past few weeks. From the very beginning of the third week of October every service has been outstanding. Dr. Mackey started off with one of his timely messages the day of Freshman recognition. Following this Dr. Stunck came up with the unusual in a message on the Jewish alphabet with the theme, "Inspiration of the Bible." Using the first six letters of the original alphabet she revealed them to mean ox standing for strength; house beginning salvation at home; camel, signifying traveling to a heavenly home; door showing "I am the way, the truth, and the life"; outlook, looking through the upper window; and hook illustrating the gospel as a hook to catch men.

The next day Dr. Adams presented a logical message using the theme of "The Beauty of the Middle of the Road." It was a wonderful message for practical Christian living. He discussed such questions as, "How spiritual is our church?" "What should recreation for Christians consist of?" etc.

The next two days we were privileged to have two visiting evangelists in the city. The first, Rev. Austin Watson, favored us with a solo, "The Love of God," playing his own accompaniment, and then showed us he could preach too by delivering a timely message from the ninth chapter of Ezekiel with the theme, "I Was Left." Rev. Trafton Williams of Texas presented a unique message with the title of "A Tourist or a Missionary." This was a message that should have inspired all young people present to determine to set higher goals for their life.

The fourth week of October has also been times of blessing. The week was crowned by a message from Rev. E. E. Hale, head of the Nazarene colored school in Institute, West Virginia. Our hearts were burdened more for the colored

A Capella Choir Makes Plans for Year

Perhaps you have heard the echoes of the A Capella drifting across the campus from the College Hill Church on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. We, the A Capella Choir members, already have many incentives for which to put forth effort and really work. Why? Our first performance has been scheduled for Founders' Day and our second performance will be at Inglewood Church on the morning of November 15.

Our director, Mrs. Keys, has plans for the year, and to us, they sound terrific! We will be touring parts of our educational zone on a two-weeks tour next spring.

June Holmes has been elected as the choir Prexy, with Larry Finger assisting as vice president. Our efficient secretary is Carol Ann Asbury, and Wyndell Williams is treasurer. Lee Yarbrough certainly does a good job keeping the music in order.

Several music groups have been and will be chosen within the choir. Mrs. Keys plans to have a trumpet trio, ladies quartet, a mixed trio and a male quartet. The ladies quartet consists of Patsy Decker, Kathlene Pope, Nadine Evans and Gloria Corey. The male quartet consists of Paul Schurman, Larry Finger, Glenn Keys and Sonny Fulwood. The others will be revealed in the next article.

We, are certainly inspired and

Three Seniors Chosen For Who's Who

Each year our student body selects students' to represent them in the National mention, Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. On October 20 we chose three leading students for this honor: Robert Breedlove, a senior from Hamilton, Georgia; Grant Browning, senior from Logan, West Virginia; and Charles Duckett, senior from Franklin, Tennessee. These men have received this position because of their scholastic standing, leadership in school activities, and Christlike attitude among fellow students. Charles is now the president of the Student Council, having been elected by the student body last spring. Robert is the Student Council secretary. Grant is the president of the senior class.

Congratulations to you! The school is proud of you.

Faculty Has Social

The faculty gathered for a social at the Gresham's home on October 22. It was a time of relaxation and fellowship. All were dressed to represent some character in line with what they are teaching. The faculty then guessed whom they represented. Various games were played including some guessing contests. Following this the hostesses, Mrs. Gresham and Mrs. Redford, served refreshments. These meetings will be held each month in the various faculty members' homes.

Caravan to Visit T. N. C. Campus

On Monday, November 16, there will be a "caravan" of young people coming to Trevecca, representing the Eastern Kentucky District. Accompanying the young people will be Rev. D. S. Sommerville, district superintendent; Rev. Harry Huff, district N. Y. P. S. president; and the district treasurer, Rev. Asa Sparks.

The primary purpose of this "Caravan" is to get the young people of Eastern Kentucky more interested in attending college here later. The Kentucky club is making plans for a banquet during their brief stay here. The caravan will leave Tuesday after Rev. Sommerville presents the district's annual Trevecca Budget to Dr. Mackey.

To make the caravan more genuine the plan is for the cars to meet in Bowling Green before coming on to Nashville. So when we see a line of cars driving upon our campus that Monday afternoon we will know it contains the young people from Kentucky. Let us prepare now to make them welcome upon their arrival.

Halloween Party???

Shh! Shh! Don't you say a word! It's a secret?? What are we talking about?? Why, the Halloween party given on Friday night of October 30th beginning at 7:00 P.M. The party is sponsored by the Junior Class and the party committee made up of Willard Brinkman, Rose Merchant, Nadine Evans, Glenn Keys, Betty Jewel, and Eunice Wachtel, will not give out any information except it is going to be the "best part ever." Where is it going to be??? One committee member said this "You have heard of the House of the Seven Gables; well this party is going to be at the House of the Seven Goblins." Draw your own conclusions. How are we going to get there??? What is the program??? We do not know, but you will not want to miss it. The admission charge is a quarter but we are guaranteed four times that much fun. The whole student body and faculty are invited. You will not want to miss this party of suspense and mystery! ???

Let's Keep It Clean

As most of you know, cleanliness is considered to go hand in hand with Holiness. The people who watch the life of a person who professes Holiness expects to see an example of a clean heart by how clean the person lives, looks, and keeps his property.

Let us therefore consider this thought in regard to our school. All throughout the year there are visitors on the campus, some of them Christians and some of them sinners. They look at our campus as a symbol of what our school stands for. Therefore, we who unite to make Trevecca what it is, should strive together to keep the campus as clean as possible.

In strategic positions on the campus are waste cans in which ALL waste materials should be put, and if you should see some paper lying out on the lawn, no one would scold you if you picked it up and put it in a waste can. Our Business Manager and faculty committee endeavor to keep the buildings painted, lawn trimmed, and shrubs, flowers and trees growing, but we, as a big, co-operative family at Trevecca have a responsibility to co-operate with them in keeping our campus looking its best.

Let us not be weary, but be an example of the believers in this and every phase of our lives.

—Wendell Smith

Cafeteria Improves

If you were to ask a T. N. C. student what his favorite spot on Trevecca campus was, he would probably say the cafeteria, not only because of the attractive surroundings but because the attractive articles on the lunch line that are so pleasing to the plate.

Many improvements have been made this year. The floor has been painted and the tables have been rearranged to give us that "homey" feeling. Now equipment, including an automatic milk dispenser, conveyor toaster, cash register, grill, potato peeler, and high-speed malt mixers have been acquired to speed up production. Also a new cashier system has developed, using two instead of one cashier.

The cafeteria staff have set up some goals that they are really working toward. Some of these are: serving new complete meals each time and not throwing the left overs at you for supper, serving a good variety of food; using fresh fruits and vegetables; and all in all planning three basic meals a day. Speaking of variety, that pizza pie and those cinnamon rolls really were delicious, as shown by the quick sell-out. Bring on more, please.

Whom do we have to thank for all this? Mr. Charles Cunningham. He is trying to take the place of our "homes" in giving us some good old "home cooking." From all of us Mr. Cunningham, we think you are doing a wonderful job.

Va. Club Has Reception

Following the Fine Arts Program on October 23, a reception was given for the Virginia Club at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. K. W. Phillips. Wayne Sharpes, president of the club, led in prayer and introduced the officers and guests to the group. Miss Ruby Potter and Miss La Vera Applegate were honored guests. Refreshments were served, after which the group sang choruses. Several musical numbers were presented by members of the club.

"Faith without works is like a bird without wings; though she may hop about on earth, she will never fly to heaven. But when both are joined together, then doth the soul mount up to eternal rest."

What a man is depends largely on what he does when he has nothing to do.

Journalism Class Visits

Farm and Ranch

On Tuesday October 20, the Journalism class, accompanied by Mrs. Phillips, visited Farm and Ranch, publishers of a farm magazine. The tour was conducted by Mrs. Pate, head of the Sales department, and we wish to express our appreciation for the time she spent in explaining the various departments to us.

Of special interest to us was the lineotype machine, the new machines for folding letters and stuffing envelopes and the visualizer. It was the first time that some of us had seen these in operation. All of us, were especially interested in the art department and how the visualizer operated to make any picture the desired size for the magazine. In the composing department we saw how the pages were made up and saw them in their final form. Of interest to all, especially the girls, was the test kitchen which is ultra-modern in every detail. Various experiments are made in it and all of the latest recipes are tried. New equipment is continually being added in this department for experimental purposes.

The trip was enjoyable as well as educational and the group now has a clearer understanding of the work which goes to make up a magazine.

N. Y. P. S. Enjoy Banquet

The east-west zone of the Nashville N. Y. P. S. held a banquet in the college cafeteria on Monday, October 19. The welcome address was given by Walter Thompson who was primarily in charge of the banquet. The main address was given by Rev. D. K. Wachtel, District Superintendent. Other preachers appeared on the program including Robert Gray, District N. Y. P. S. President. The purpose of the program was for the fellowship along with planning the project for the coming year. This project is in regard to the home missions on the district with a concentration on the various preachers connected with the home missions.

Science Class Visit Caves

On October 24, a group of science students visited Jewell and Ruskin Caves. They were accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Gresham. After being shown the various formations in these caves, the

The college student should be acquainted with the current happenings that arise in our nation today. The fact that many students know so little about outside news is a tragic one. Yes, it is sometimes difficult to prepare lessons, study for exams and also try to keep up with the late news; but on the other hand it is often equally important to know about the affairs that present themselves in our government and in this world with all its perplexing problems.

Perplexing problems? In these days the encounters that glimmer have induced such skepticism and perversity in the minds of the American people that they wonder whether there is any use in seeking an effective means for evading another war.

This summer has been a full and a hectic one for President Eisenhower. It began with the undesirable task of making a decision in the notorious Rosenberg case. Then there is Korea. Korea! The sound of the word staggers the imagination of many parents who had sons there. But there was some relief when the President officially acknowledged the truce in Korea. Everyone was glad for those who were POW's and got to come back home. But the truce did not dissipate the doubts that were present in everyone's mind. Many were dubious about the United Nations.

This past summer included the deaths of Senators Smith and Tobey. It later included the death of Robert A. Taft, majority leader of our U. S. Senate. Senator Taft's wisdom and energy will long be missed in the Senate and in our government.

Not only do we have a new majority leader in the Senate, but we now have a new Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court. Shortly after the sad news of Fred Vinson's passing away, President Eisenhower appointed Governor Earl Warren of California to assume the responsibility of this position.

Trev-Echoes is presenting to the student body a new column regarding the current affairs of the day. It is the sincere hope of the staff that these articles will prove beneficial and interesting to the readers in the months to come.

From the TOWER

"Order! Order! Order!" was the cry of the sergeant-at-arms at the campus-bird conference on the tower this week. For days the meeting had been in session, discussing how to make a more thorough survey of human affairs but the sparrow and robin were engaged in their own conversation.

"Why, I don't need to be told how to survey human affairs. I get plenty of practice in one flight to the campus below," confided the robin." Those freshmen and sophomores have really been early birds lately. They got up at four O'clock one morning. I still had my head under my wing but I couldn't rest for fire crackers and confusion!! Martha Elkins threw water on Geraldine McCall through the transit. Donna Wilburn talked in her sleep and declared the gypsies were after her!! I guess even humans get nervous sometimes, Pat Owen has been talking in her sleep lately, too. She keeps yelling "chorus practice" and "Chattanooga" . . . I even stay up and accompany the night watchman sometimes. He really has a difficult job keeping Jeannette York from moving furniture up the stairs at 12:00 P.M. and Alice Williams from frightening Mrs. Mingledorf . . . Some boy gave Mr. Hill a chase the other night—or did Mr. Hill chase him? Anyway he ran out of Hardy Hall!! Poor humans, I sometimes pity them. They get so confused. Gloria Corey had an embarrassing time trying to pay her bus fare recently and Nina Griggs tumbled down the steps and was used as a door mat . . . I flew away, I just couldn't bear it. I really got flustered when I saw Loeida Smith typing with her toes and those boys over in Tidwell signing out to go to bed!! I really appreciate Robert Gilliland and Lee Yarbrough. They captured a bird dog that had been wandering around on the campus and gave him an operation in the lab. The operation proved fatal and now I am free to fly about with no fear of being devoured!! Let's fly down to the chapel for a change Sparrow, and see who is speaking today.

The robin flew away and the sparrow followed and so I tell to you what a little bird told me on the TOWER.

Freshmen Class Presents Fine Arts Program

The presentation by the Freshman class on October 23 was that of a sacred music concert. Miss Lavera Applegate from Jamestown, Tennessee, who is a graduate of the 1952-53 class here at Trevecca and now a student at Peabody College, and Miss Ruby Potter, sophomore, were featured on the program. There were three piano and organ duets with Miss Applegate at the piano and Miss Ruby Potter at the organ. These were:

"God Understands"
"I'm in Love with Jesus"
"Onward Christian Soldiers"
Miss Applegate also rendered four piano solos:
"Amazing Grace"
"Let The Lower Lights Be Burning"
"After"
"Hymn Medley"

Vocal numbers were by the members of the freshman class. These were interspersed between Miss Applegate's numbers with the following freshmen doing the performing:

Gloria Corey — "The Lord's Prayer"
Delores Brown — "The Holy Hour"
Dale Martin — "The Perfect Day"
Larry Finger — "Bless This House"

The ushers and usherettes, being members of the freshmen class, were: Don Peal, Christine Campbell, Cary Duckett, and Virginia Hill.

Students Elect Representative Council

The recent election of the student council representative took place in chapel on October 20. For the junior class Virginia Curl, of Chattanooga, Tennessee, was chosen; the sophomores, Margaret Barnett, of Memphis, Tennessee; the freshmen, Cary Duckett, of Franklin, Tennessee; junior theologists, Melvin Jarrett, of Blytheville, Arkansas; and high school, Sammy Phipps, of Huntington, West Virginia, and Dolly Smith, of Highpoint, North Carolina.

Expectations are high for a good year under the efficient leadership of these very capable students, along with the student council president, Charles Duckett, and secretary, Bob Breedlove who were elected last Spring.

Personality Parade

Brave, courageous, and loyal is she. A sweet smile, lovable attitude, and tender spirit combine to distinguish her. She is none other than Jane Maser. At the time of her birth in Bellaire, Ohio, she was welcomed by proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maser. Although somewhat handicapped, she has overcome it down through the years with remarkable courage, and is now a freshman in college. She will become a sophomore next quarter. She did some high school work here at Trevecca and started her college work last year; therefore this makes the third year that she has been at the school.

Jane is a very good student in all courses. According to her high school English teacher, she excels in the field of writing and was encouraged to take up writing as a vocation. Her wishes are to be a teacher, however, and she is working toward that goal. She is seemingly very fond of children and even now helps her little nephew with his homework when he comes to her dormitory room to see her.

Jane's contribution to Trevecca is no little one. She has offered inspiration to many discouraged students through her unwillingness to be defeated.

Two weeks ago it was stated that TNC needed more school spirit. At that time we were inclined to agree. A lot can happen in two weeks and has, for which we are very glad. A spirit of co-operation and participation is very vital to the growth of any institution, educational or otherwise. TNC's future is bright.

Attendance at the football games has almost doubled at the last several games. Colorful, evenly matched teams have helped the attendance, but much of the credit must be given to our cheer leaders. Their spirited cheers have added much to the games.

A track star can sympathize with the writer. He knows when you jump one hurdle there is always another. Our goal at the start of the season was to arouse interest in the games so attendance would increase. That goal has been attained but now something must be done to keep the attendance at the present level or higher. We are ashamed of our outmoded bleachers. Insufficient seats will soon drive away our crowds. Plans are being made for new and better bleachers. Anyone interested contact the sports editor.

Over Hi School

The unpredictable Eagles, fighting to tighten their hold on second place in the standings, rolled over a good High School team 18 to 7.

The upperclassmen, lead by Heaberlin, scored late in the first quarter and again in the second quarter to lead at half time 12 to 0.

Both teams were held scoreless in the third quarter. Phillip Rodgers scored early in the last period for High School and Murphy crossed for the extra point to put them back in the game. But Heaberlin, who scored all the Eagles' points, could not be stopped and scored again with only minutes to play.

Freshmen Tie High School

The oft-defeated Freshmen won a moral victory Tuesday by coming from behind to gain a 12 to 12 tie with the high school team.

It looked for awhile like high school was going to have an easy time in defeating a Freshman team that has lost three in a row. Newbill scored first for high school in the last minutes of the first period on a pass from P. Rodgers. Early in the second quarter Rodgers passed to Trayler to put High School ahead 12 to 0.

Then the Freshmen Green-Wave caught fire and scored two quick touchdowns on a pass from Godby to Fulwood and an end sweep by Captain Godby.

Neither team could seem to click in the last half and the game ended a 12 to 12 tie. Nevertheless, a moral victory for the Freshmen.

race as he vividly described their need.

Then the week has been climaxed with soul-thrilling messages by Rev. W. M. Tidwell, who was the first person to enroll in 1901 in what has now become Trevecca Nazarene College. His message have touched the themes of, "Differences Between Justification and Sanctification," bringing out the thoughts of (1) different times received, (2) different conditions to be met, etc. and, "Points of Similarity Between the Days of Noah and Return of Jesus to the Earth. Some of the points in this sermon were, (1) times of wickedness (2) age of immorality, violence and corruption, etc. Bro. Tidwell used well his unusual sense of humor to attract the students' attention and his serious words sank deep within their hearts. Truly, we shall never forget these days of blessing.

Lions Maul Eagles

The blue and gold Lions of the sophomore class continued to roll on undefeated Saturday by swamping the Eagles 44 to 7. This was the Lions fifth straight victory.

The Lions scored early and in every quarter. By half time they lead 18 to 7. Capt. Spruill was outstanding in scoring two touchdowns and passing for three more. Herndon and McCue scored twice each and Evans once for the sophomores.

The Eagles suffered a great loss when Capt. Breedlove was carried out of the game with an injured leg in the third quarter. The Eagles could not fill the gap left by their Captain and the Lions scored four of their touchdowns after Breedlove's injury. Final score 44 to 7.
